Potential Disclosure of Inquiry Information Submitted through Our Former Websites Following Unauthorized Access to Studio

We have been notified of unauthorized access by a third party to Studio, the website creation service we previously used to operate our websites. The service is operated by Studio Inc. (hereinafter referred to as "Studio").

Following this incident, we learned that information submitted through the inquiry forms on the websites of Nissan Motor Car Carrier Co., Ltd. and MOL ACE TRANSPORT Co., Ltd., the two companies prior to their integration into our current company, may have been disclosed to external parties.

We sincerely apologize for the significant concern and inconvenience this may cause those potentially affected and all other parties concerned.

At present, we have not confirmed that any third party has actually obtained the information or that any resulting harm has occurred. While we are taking steps to notify those potentially affected, we would like to share the information currently available, as outlined below.

1. Overview

On October 16, 2026, Studio notified us that information under its management may have been disclosed to external parties as a result of unauthorized access by a third party to its cloud environment.
According to Studio, a third party exploited a vulnerability in certain features of its service. Studio has stated that the vulnerability has already been fixed and that the route used for the unauthorized access has been blocked.

2. Scope of Potential Impact

Websites concerned

- The former website of Nissan Motor Car Carrier Co., Ltd.
- The former website of MOL ACE TRANSPORT Co., Ltd.

Information that may have been disclosed

The following information submitted through the inquiry forms:

- Company name
- Name
- Telephone number
- Email address
- Inquiry details

The inquiry forms did not include fields for passwords, credit card information or similar sensitive information. Such information is therefore not within the scope of this incident.
Our current website is created, managed and operated using a service other than Studio.

3. Next Steps and Precautions

We will notify those potentially affected directly and offer our apologies by email, using the addresses provided at the time of their inquiries. These notifications will be sent in stages.
We have also reported this incident to Japan's Personal Information Protection Commission.
We will continue to gather information from Studio and, if new facts come to light, will promptly provide updates on our website or through other channels as necessary.
Information that may have been disclosed in this incident could be misused by third parties to send suspicious emails or messages, or make telephone calls, impersonating our company, MOL ACE TRANSPORT Co., Ltd. or Nissan Motor Car Carrier Co., Ltd. Please exercise caution and do not enter authentication credentials such as passwords, credit card information or other sensitive information in response to such communications. We will never ask for authentication credentials such as passwords or credit card numbers by email or telephone in connection with this incident.

4. Related Information

For Studio's announcement regarding this incident, please refer to the following:
Studio Inc.
"Notice Regarding Unauthorized Access to Studio"
https://studio.design/ja/security/notice/2026-10-incident#target

5. Contact for Inquiries Regarding This Incident

MOL ACE TRANSPORT Co., Ltd.
Inquiry Desk

E-mail: security-mtr@molgroup.com